Karen: Hey some skype messages just popped up for you on my screen. I will close and maybe you should sign in?
me: I'm signed in me: just quit I guess
me: make sure you go to bottom right of your screen and click the little arrow to bring up open applications and then right click on it and choose quit Karen: OK, but you owe me your daily phone conversation -- can you call in a minute?
me: okay
Karen: I am leaving in an hour -- can we have our conversation soon?
